CALL FOR PUBLICATION OF PHD THESIS IN SENSORY AND CONSUMER SCIENCE ON E3S WEBSITE (MEMBERS ONLY AREA)

E3S promotes the publication on the E3S website (in the members only area) of PhD theses in Sensory and Consumer Science defended in European Universities in the last 3 years (2012-2014). You can visit the archive of the past years here.

National sensory societies are invited to collect and categorise the theses and finally send them to secretary@e3sensory.eu.

IMPORTANT:

LANGUAGE

E3S publishes full text of Theses written in English and a summary, written in English, of Theses in other languages that are associated with publications in English. For Theses not in English, a summary document of a minimum of 3 pages with references to any related published articles is required.

TEXTS OF MANUSCRIPTS SHOULD BE REMOVED

When a thesis includes original research papers published in scientific Journals, these should be removed and simply the reference to the papers given: in this case the publication of the thesis on E3S website is limited to the introduction and the list of published papers.
