

As the partner of choice for its clients in the Food, Pet Food, nutraceutical, aquaculture and cosmetics industries, DIANA (division of the SYMRISE Group) has become a worldwide leading player providing sensorial and nutritional tailor-made solutions based on natural ingredients.

Our mission: Performance from nature

Thanks to its unique expertise in biosciences and major investments in innovation, DIANA works alongside its customers to increase the performance and attractiveness of their brands through organoleptic and well-being additional benefits.

DIANA relies on 30 industrial sites and more than 2000 people globally.

- DIANA is a worldwide leader in natural and functional Food solutions and palatability enhancers for Pet Food.
- DIANA developed a technological leadership in Plant Cell Culture dedicated to actives synthesis for Food, health and cosmetics industries.

www.diana-group.com

www.symrise.com

The PET FOOD business unit is looking for R&D Project manager

► Main missions:

- Ensure the coordination and management of a pool of projects aiming sensory pleasantness of petfoods (Dry, wet, treats, drinks) for cats and dogs and their owners.
  - ✓ Lead and manage the projects (follow-up with customers, internal developments, aroma collection building)
  - ✓ Participate to the building and consolidation of the sensory program.
- Build and maintain a scientific network in this research & development area
- Prepare and ensure the scientific publications in relevant journals & specialized industry or academic symposia (petfood, Flavor, sensometry)

► Activities:

Project Management:

- ✓ Establish the sensorial targets, project planning and execution steps, evaluate the resources
- ✓ Realize the applications in petfood (Dry, wet, treats etc...) internally
- ✓ Analyze, synthetize results
- ✓ Follow worldwide customer demands, answer the briefs with local resources support
- ✓ Prepare and attend the scientific meetings of Projects
- ✓ Ensure the monthly reports
- ✓ Realize the scientific and technologic watch in order to have relevant project Pipe

For scientific Networking :

- ✓ Define a program of conferences, symposia to attend / participate to. The same for the pertinent journals to publish in, write the supporting documents (papers, posters, oral presentations)
- ✓ Ensure the scientific and experts networking by organizing events, visits etc...

► Skills and competencies

- Master Degree in sensory, Food science with specialization in aroma,
- You have a successful period of 5 years in application of aroma in culinary products, if possible petfoods. (Aroma industry, feed industry ...)
- You are familiar with sensometry data management (Statistic applied for sensorial testing with humans, expert, semi expert, in home panels)
- Autonomy, reactivity and agility
- Excellent English, French would be appreciated
- High Expertise and curiosity
- Communication and team work

For this position Based in Vannes – Morbihan (56), FRANCE

Please send your application to:

Mylene BENOIT – recrutement@diana-group.com